Why do you want to serve as a member of the SISD Board of Trustees?

My main motivation is our children. Our children are the future of this great community and country. I desire to ensure our young people continue to have the proper classroom learning environment and the necessary tools to enhance their education. Any school district that succeeds in providing these two attributes typically graduates a high percentage of students who become functioning members of their communities and society. I am also excited about working alongside passionate individuals to ensure annual goals set forth by this administration are accomplished. Finally, I have a strong belief that we as parents and a community must support our teachers. Educating our youth today certainly comes with no shortage of challenges and those challenges are not decreasing in numbers annually. My hope is SISD Staff always feels supported by their parents, community, and administration.

What goals would you like to see accomplished in SISD over the next two years?

My first goal revolves around innovation. Many large companies today are pursuing out-of-the-box thinking individuals with an emphasis on creative and innovative ways to evaluate their business. Maintaining margins and increasing annual revenue often require a different approach to enable companies to differentiate themselves in today's market place. I would love to help discover additional opportunities to engage our student body to not only think, but act creatively and innovatively. I realize this will be a challenge with limited resources.

Next, today's society continues to breed the "me first" and/or self-entitlement mentality. We need more young people and more young adults to raise their awareness around serving others. Servant hearts lead to productive communities. My second goal involves working with others to generate additional serving opportunities for our student body in the Shallowater and surrounding community when applicable. Some skills are not obtained through text books and providing further encounters is a great place to begin. I realize these two goals may be an unorthodox way of thinking when pertaining to educating our youth, but I know active participation in these two areas can change not only the student's life, but many others in their circle.

What skills, knowledge, experience, etc. can you offer to the district?

I had the privilege of serving students through Raider Red Meats from 2008-2013. Our sole purpose at RRM is to fund scholarships and serve others. I have a great understanding of working with limited budgets and most importantly making every decision that is best for current and future students. Creating and maintaining budgets, being decisive, negotiating contracts, and working with both large and small diverse groups for one common goal are all valuable skills to possess when serving on boards. I have been fortunate enough to obtain these skills and many others in my 16 year professional career and while serving on other past boards. Finally, I obtained my most valuable skill at an early age in life. My parents taught me the value in being honest and always telling the truth.
